Lake Hintersee, Ramsau

Lakes & Sights

Large and impressive at the foot of imposing mountain peaks or small and hidden; icy cold or pleasantly warm: everywhere in the Berchtesgadener Land you will find lakes – from bathing lakes to idyllic mountain lakes.

As the only family with fishing rights on Lake Königssee, master fisherman Rudolf Amort continues the centuries-old tradition of fishing and offering the catch of the day to those who would like to enjoy the specialties of the lake.

www.fischer-vom-koenigssee.de

Saalachsee Lake was created by damming the Saalach River in Kibling. Here you can enjoy the beauty of nature by either biking or walking upriver undisturbed and around this lovely lake.

For those who enjoy observing animals, stopping off at Lake Listsee by Bad Reichenhall is a must! Not only are there large numbers of fish seen through the clear waters, but, for early risers, there is a chance of catching a glimpse of a stork catching its breakfast as well! The water and surrounding area are protected by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Lake Thumsee located just outside of Bad Reichenhall, is a crystal-clear swimming lake with a lovely groomed and grassy beach for sunbathers. Also charming is the walking path that completely circumvents the lake.

With its swimming beach, playground, public restrooms and cost-free sunbathing area, Abtsdorfersee Lake near Laufen is definitely an ideal destination for families and everyone alike. Swimmers will be happy to know that this is one of the warmest lakes in Bavaria.

Surrounded by grandiose and imposing peaks, lying at the foot of the Reiteralm mountain range, you'll find Lake Hintersee near Ramsau which has drawn many writers and painters throughout the centuries. The surrounding area is fairytale-like as well. The footpath from Ramsau through the Zauberwald or magic forest is the best way to reach this lovely area on foot. Follow the pretty path around the lake or rent a paddle-boat or rowboat and glide across the glistening surface of this lake which has been used as a backdrop for many films.

By contrast to the warm swimming lakes, the temperature of Lake Funtensee (1,633m / 5,358ft) located in the southern part of Germany's only Alpine National Park, remains rather chilly! Due to unusual geological conditions, this area is always making headlines as the coldest spot in Germany! Surprising, though, is the fact that the tree line in this area becomes sparser and the trees get smaller the closer one gets to the lake!

Note: The hike up to Lake Funtensee from Lake Königssee takes approximately 3 hours.

Lake Königssee with St. Bartholomew

Lake Königssee

Surrounded by towering rock cliffs, the lake - emerald green and silent - is set in one of the most impressive landscapes in Germany.

It is perhaps for this reason that so many visitors come to Königssee year after year. This narrow, fjord-like lake is 8 km long (5 miles), up to 1,2 km wide (3/4 mile) and lies 602 meters (2,000ft) above sea level. With a maximum depth of 192 meters (650 ft), Lake Königssee retains its cold temperature even during the hottest time of the year.

Leave the noise and hectic pace on land behind you and glide across the smooth surface in one of Lake Königssee's electric boats. The union of water, mountains and sky touches the heart and soul. Magical, romantic, relaxing, interesting and even educational, Lake Königssee will transport you into an enchanted world!

Lake Höglwörth

This charming lake is a one of a kind gem with a romantic island castle!

Picturesque, too, is the old abbey with its castle, church and cloister. A secret tip is the nice little bathing area where swimming is made enjoyable in Lake Höglwörth's pleasantly warm water! A leisurely stroll around the lake will show off the location to its best advantage.

Almbachklamm Gorge, Marktshellenberg

Gorges, Canyons & Dams

Hiking, gazing, staring in awe: Gorges and slot-canyons reveal fantastic perspectives that you won't soon forget.

Idyllic Almbachklamm near Marktshellenberg with its impressive waterfalls is one of the most beautiful gorges in Bavaria.

At the entrance of the Almbachklamm gorge you'll find the oldest marble ball mill in Germany. Ever since 1683 marble rocks have been ground down and polished into gleaming marble balls!

Everywhere in the Berchtesgader Land mills and dams can be seen, such as Röthelbachklause near Bad Reichenhall – one of the very oldest dams – or the Theresienklause above Almbachklamm gorge. These historical monuments show us the industry and technology of earlier times. Garnering the power of water enabled settlers to mine salt, grind grain by means of millstones, as well as generating power or logging in areas too hard to reach without the transport of water. Many mills and dams are now being lovingly restored by various organizations and honorary volunteers. These are ideal excursions for the young and old alike who, today, are still fascinated with this narrow link between technology and nature.

Wimbachklamm Gorge, Ramsau

Schellenberger ice caves

Wimbachklamm gorge

For those in the mood for a gorge adventure, the Speiktal valley and Speikschlucht gorge near Bayerisch Gmain await you! Hike up to the wide brook bed of the Speik via some steep ascents through the romantic Weissbach valley, with its deep gorges and numerous waterfalls.

Close by, in the neighboring township of Schneizlreuth, you can visit the Aschauer Gorge and the Hiental dam. The Weissbach gorge also provides the opportunity for an enjoyable walk.

For those in search of gorges and dams, sturdy shoes are a prerequisite. If you are interested in checking out the Schellenberger Ice Cave (1,500m / 4,920ft) on the Untersberg mountain, not only will you need hiking boots but warm clothing, as well, because the deeper into Germany's largest ice cave you go, the colder it gets!

www.eishoehle.net

In spite of global warming, the Blaueisgletscher – Blue Ice Glacier – still exists today, thanks to its location on the north face of Mt Hochkalter. After reaching the Blaueis-hütte at 1680m, glacier enthusiasts can continue hiking up to this unique world of ice!

At the entrance of an awe-inspiring high valley at the foot of the Watzmann mountain, lies the Wimbachklamm: a geologically impressive attraction as well as a splendid act of nature.

Eagle's Nest

Eagle's Nest Road

Exhilarating Heights & Depths– Cable Cars & Special Roads

The Eagle's Nest

A historic viewpoint high above the Berchtesgaden area: panoramic views of up to 200 kilometers can be enjoyed by those visiting the Eagle's Nest. Its construction ordered by Martin Bormann, the so-called Eagle's Nest teahouse was offered to Adolf Hitler for his 50th birthday with the aim of using it for representation purposes for official guests. The challenging construction of the Eagle's Nest was completed in just 13 months including the road, Germany's highest.

Today the Eagle's Nest is open to the public and can be seen in its original form. Since 1960 it has been in the hands of the Berchtesgaden tourist board and leased out as a mountain top restaurant.

From the Eagle's Nest upper parking area, a hand blasted tunnel takes you 124 meters through the mountainside to an ornate elevator lined with shiny brass. In just seconds you are transported another 124 meters up through the mountain and into the building itself.

In 1960 the Bavarian State created a trust fund through which the Eagle's Nest is administrated and thanks to which the proceeds are used for charitable purposes.

Eagle's Nest Road

The "Kehlsteinstrasse" (Eagle's Nest road) is considered a unique masterpiece of architecture and a feat of engineering. The great difference in elevation (700m /2,300ft) from Obersalzberg to the Eagle's Nest upper parking area is bridged via a 'perched' road featuring only one hairpin bend switching back along the steep northwest wall of the Kehlstein Mountain.

Impressive as well is the history of the road's construction. In as little as 13 months, the 6.5-kilometer long road was blasted out of solid rock. In 1952 the Eagle's Nest road was closed to normal traffic and a special bus service was introduced.

Historical Cable Car

The world's oldest cable car: built to last!

Bad Reichenhall's cable car is often affectionately referred to as the "Grande Dame" of the Alps. It is the only one of its kind, still maintained in its original form and justifiably classified as a National Monument. From the very start, it was considered to be the prototype of a cable car reflecting both elegance and technical perfection.

Breathtaking vistas

Ever since 1928, the Predigtstuhl cable car has been transporting its passengers at 18km per hour up to an elevation of 1584 meters. Easily recognizable from afar, the red "parlor car" gracefully glides above the steep escarpment. Upon reaching the top, visitors are greeted by fresh mountain air fragrant with the scent of stone pine. From the summit, one has a commanding view of the town of Bad Reichenhall, as well as the Salzburg basin to the north. To the south, Mt Watzmann and the high Alps rise majestically, while to the west one sees the Alps of Chiemgau and Tyrol.

Hearty specialties, homemade pastries and a gourmet restaurant.

The Schlegelmulde Alpine Hut is a popular destination for hikers from near and far. However, cable car passengers also enjoy a walk along the high "cure-takers" trail to a mountain pasture where they can enjoy hearty specialties and homemade pastries. Those who favor fine dining will be delighted to discover the varied menu of the chef's gourmet cuisine. The eatery's legendary panoramic terrace is an inviting venue to spend relaxing and refreshing moments.

"Royal view" to Lake Königssee

Best conditions at the Jenner ski area

Jenner Mountain at Lake Königssee (610 – 1.800 m)

Longing for a little quiet time in nature? Then why not take a trip up Mount Jenner – the highest gateway for visitors into the Berchtesgaden National Park. Thrill your senses on a grand scale!

After disembarking at the top station, a short hike will take one to the top of the Jenner Mountain (1874 m) offering an unparalleled view over Lake Königssee and the 2,000 m east wall of the Watzmann Mountain. From here, over a dozen hiking trails with various levels of difficulty begin and invite you to see some of the most beautiful areas in the German Alps.

The top station's sun terrace is great for relaxing and taking in the view and the pure mountain air. Its restaurant, Germany's highest cafeteria, spoils visitors with freshly prepared dishes.

Thanks to the modern snow blower on the Jenner Mountain, snow is guaranteed all season long – and therefore, a skier's dream come true. The Jenner is the largest ski-area in the Berchtesgadener Land and offers experienced skiers, as well as beginners and families, a variety of slopes, either groomed (11km) or covered in deep powder snow.

Six lifts (one cable-car, one 4-seater chairlift with hoods for protection against the weather, two chairlifts and one T-bar lift) will transport you effortlessly to the slopes offering panoramic views over the snowcapped peaks of the National Park.

Obersalzberg Cable Car

The mountains entice and, thanks to the Obersalzberg cable car, your excursion can be even more enjoyable! Without much effort, this is the way to take in the pure mountain air and do something for your circulation as well. The Obersalzberg cable car gives access to a large number of hiking trails at the elevation of about 1,000 meters (3,300 ft).

From the cable car's top station, walk 100 meters on the path to the 600-meter-long summer sled run 'Sommerrodelbahn Hochlenzer'. On the 600 meter long stretch there are three steep curves, six light curves as well as two built in bumps to achieve the right amount of adrenalin! From here, the Documentation Center at Obersalzberg and the Eagle's Nest bus departure point are about 2 km (1.2 miles) away.

In winter, equipped with a rental sled, the natural sledding track is a great way to swiftly reach the valley below and fun for the whole family. Sledding is not the only ideal pastime for families in the winter but also the Obersalzberg ski areas offers 5 ski lifts and 1 snow tubing lift which is great for beginners and families.

Culture & History

Witness and experience local traditions.

Before the word "vacation" was created, Berchtesgaden already boasted many prominent guests: the kings of Bavaria, artists and the nobility preferred this charming town. Today you don't have to be an aristocrat in order to enjoy the ambience of this little alpine jewel.

The town has numerous interesting sights to discover such as the historic Rococo town center with its colorful facades, its abbey church and its royal palace. Berchtesgaden's cozy cafés and restaurants are a great place to relax after having explored the array of shops the town has to offer.

For those who would like to experience Berchtesgaden by night – The "night watchman's" historical tour of the city by night is the way to see Berchtesgaden from a slightly different perspective! www.berchtesgaden.com

King Ludwig I once declared that Anger was the "most beautiful" village in his kingdom. The landmark of this town is its village square with its column of the Virgin Mary erected in 1884. Radiant, the gold-clad patron saint of Bavaria towers into the sky. In Anger the old traditions have not changed much throughout the centuries with their folk dances, Schuhplattler (thigh slapping dances) and native dresses which are still today very much part of daily life. www.anger.de

What a town! The transport of salt or 'white gold' on the Salzach and Saalach Rivers brought the town of Laufen riches and recognition.

The filigree border-spanning bridge between Laufen and Oberndorf links Germany to Austria. It was built between 1902 and 1903 across the Salzach, the river bordering both countries since 1816. As one of the few remainning Jugendstil (Art Nouveau) bridges in Germany, it is now protected by the historical preservation society. The old Rathaus or town hall in Laufen dates back to the 15th century. Take in the magnificent Gothic arch on the first floor. On the second floor have a look at the beautifully restored baroque Alter Ratssaal (town hall) which has been called Rottmayrsaal since 2004. This hall displays the impressive Rottmayr painting 'Allegorie der Astronomie und Geschichtswissenschaft' from 1710.

A city on the go! Are you in the mood for a shopping spree? Freilassing has a great selection of shops just waiting for you to check out! Sports and cultural activities are also for the taking.

Bad Reichenhall

The mild climate, the brine springs and the charming landscape have lured royalty into the area that, ever since 1900, has been called the 'Bayerisches Staatsbad' (Bavarian spa town). Today, Bad Reichenhall is a spa and convention town which combines modern life and tradition with flair! It is an alpine wellness town of the highest ranking as well: thanks to its well protected natural environment, health and well being are a major focus. More and more people are discovering the positive effects and stimulating energy of Bad Reichenhall's alpine brine. Enjoy this fountain of youth for the body, spirit and soul which comes from deep under the Alps!

In the past, weaker concentrations of brine flowed over blackthorn bushes to increase the proportion of salt. Today the same process can be viewed at the Gradierwerk in the Kurgarten, used as an alpine brine inhalatorium for those wanting to breathe in the healthy salt-charged air!

The Old Royal Convention Hall (Altes Königliches Kurhaus) has been completely restored to its original splendor and impresses everyone with its fine architecture. It is used now as a modern convention center as well as for special exhibits.

The Reichenhaller Akademie – Bad Reichenhall Academy – offers artists space for creativity and development.

Treasures on every corner!

The history of Bavaria's royal family is reflected clearly in the Royal Palace 'Königliches Schloss' in Berchtesgaden. Originally a medieval monastery, the abbey was taken over by the Bavarian monarchy after secularization.

High above the salt springs of Bad Reichenhall sits the Gruttenstein Fort. Built in the 12th century, it was used for the protection of the city and salt springs. It is not open to the public.

At the place where Marzoll Castle now stands, there was once a Roman fort. Around 1500 the original fortification located near Bad Reichenhall was converted into a castle.

The ruins of the living quarters of a mountain chapel and cemetery give one the impression of how large Karlstein Castle near Bad Reichenhall was at one time.

Churches and Monasteries

The history of Bavaria cannot be written without mentioning its churches and monasteries. In Aufham-Anger lies Kloster Höglwörth a one-time abbey of Augustinian monks founded in 1125.

According to legend, the St. Zeno Minster in Bad Reichenhall was founded by Charlemagne. The largest basilica in southern Bavaria, it houses numerous art treasures. Tours through the cloister are offered every Saturday from May to October at 10:30 a.m.

Also worth seeing is the pilgrimage church of Sankt Pankraz in Karlstein as well as the parish church of St. Jacobus in Aufham.

The late Gothic nave of the Mariä Himmel Anger parish church was constructed in 1445/50.

Maria Heimsuchung chapel

Maria Gern pilgrimage church

The Vachenlueg Chapel has an unusual story to tell. When the castle collapsed in 1824, the chapel went down with it. However, the reliquary shrine and the Madonna remained unharmed. The chapel was rebuilt in 1848.

The originally Romanesque column based basilica of Berchtesgaden's Abbey Church (Stiftskirche) dates from the 12th century and was rebuilt in gothic style.

The origin of St. Andreas Parish Church goes back to the romanesque period. The church was built by the townspeople of Berchtesgaden.

North of Berchtesgaden lies the pilgrimage church of Maria Gern, often referred to as the most beautiful church in the Berchtesgadener Land. The church has an oval floor plan and noteworthy is the Madonna and Child from 1666.

The Abbey Church of Laufen was built between 1330 and

The small pilgrimage church of Maria Hilf in Bischofswiesen-Loipl, with its "Mount of Olives" chapel, was constructed in 1799. This unostentatious church featuring a simple nave was extended in 1824 to include a narthex centrally topped by a tower, thus lending it a unique appearance.

A jewel of the late Rococo period is the pilgrimage church of Maria am Kunterweg built in 1733.

The pilgrimage church of Ettenberg, 'Maria Heimsuchung', has a charming Baroque interior.

The poet Josef Mohr – who wrote the lyrics for 'Silent

Night' – was parish assistant at the parish church of Ramsau dating back to 1512. The view of the church from the riverbank is well-known the world over.

Museums and Attractions

Historic Saalachkraftwerk power plant

Now listed as a historic monument, this water-driven power plant was originally put into operation in 1914 with the aim of supplying electricity to the Berchtesgaden – Salzburg train line. Its turbines and generators are still in their original condition and produce some 40 million KW hours each year. Though the dam is located in Kibling, the actual plant is to be found in Kirchberg and connected to its energy source by an underground tunnel.

Directly on the road from Neukirchen to Oberteisendorf one finds the Achthal Mining Museum (Bergbaumuseum). Here the history of iron-ore mining in this region is recounted. Its founder, Sepp Winkler, worked strenuously alongside a support association created in 1983 to create a successful presentation of the most fascinating aspects of ore mining and iron manufacturing on mount Teisenberg. www.teisendorf.de

Healing Salt Chamber – in the Berchtesgaden Salt Mine

Renew your energy! A "quiet sensation" has been developing in the only healing salt mine in Western Europe, located in Berchtesgaden amid charming landscapes. Cut off from all outside influences and enveloped in humidity of 85%, visitors soon lose their sense of time and space allowing them to completely unwind in this therapeutic environment while breathing in the salt charged air.

These are probably the most beautiful salt works in the world and definitely the only royal ones, as this industrial monument was constructed by King Ludwig I of Bavaria after a fire in 1834.

Enzianbrennerei Grassl – Gentian Schnapps Distillery

Take time out to sample some local schnapps! The oldest Gentian schnapps distillery in Germany beckons! The famous Grassl mountain gentian schnapps was first distilled in Berchtesgaden in 1602. Today, in addition to the main production, more than 30 different herbal and fruit schnapps varieties are produced here as well.

Enjoy not only the samples of this delicious nectar, take an interesting tour through the distillery and have a look at the display of old machinery used hundreds of years ago in this ancient distilling tradition. Watch a film (in English as well) which details how the distilling process is achieved.

Another highlight of the facility is a visit to an old alpine dairy hut that was transported to this location in the year 2000 and reassembled next to the distillery. During the summer season the famous Kallbrunner Almkas – a high mountain cheese – can be purchased here, as well as an array of other products from the Berchtesgaden area.

Hans-Peter Porsche TraumWerk: Model Trains and Toys to bring out the child in you

Hans-Peter Porsche TraumWerk is impressing visitors since it opened in the spring of 2015, with a model railway covering some 400 square meters, legendary cars and a large collection of rare toys. Located in the Upper Bavarian township of Anger/Aufham in the Berchtesgadener Land, this is the realization of Hans-Peter Porsche, the grandson of legendary Professor Dr. Ing. h.c.Ferdinand Porsche, whose long cherished dream has finally come true.

This unusual collection, with a ground surface of approx. 55,000 square meters, is easily reached by visitors traveling on the A8 Autobahn near Salzburg. In addition to the exhibition there are many possibilities to enjoy a day's activities nearby.

A 20,000 square meter garden area includes a playground for children with a 1.5 km long railway which children of any age can ride. The on-location restaurant satisfies visitors with its regional fare. In the TraumWerk Shop, one can find not only souvenirs but also model trains, toys, and books.

The Bad Reichenhall Philharmonic Orchestra

Top Notch Entertainment

Always a change of pace!

Whatever your taste – the Berchtesgadener Land offers entertainment of the highest order! For classical music lovers, there is a colorful array of possibilities to choose from in theater and music. For those who would like to experience centuries-old dancing traditions, the Bavarian folklore dances are a must to see! The Berchtesgadener Land has just what you are looking for!

The Bad Reichenhall Philharmonic Orchestra & Ensembles

This orchestra is not only the sole philharmonic spa orchestra in Germany, but also the only culture orchestra in southeast Bavaria. Its 40 musicians lovingly keep up the proud tradition of holding spa concerts that are known for their healing effects.

Spa concerts take place from Tuesday through Sunday all year round and during summer are sometimes held outside in the royal spa gardens. As tickets can't be reserved in advance, just come by spontaneously and let the soothing sounds disperse any stress and tension. The Bad Reichenhall Philharmonic Orchestra and Philharmonic Ensembles, Salon Orchestra and various musicians and music ensembles, which are presented by an MC, will please and thrill visitors of any age.

Around 350 multifaceted concerts are performed in Bad Reichenhall each year, including matinées, salon- and symphony concerts, requested programs, as well as chamber music.

Back to the roots!

The Berchtesgadener Land has many different faces and culture here is also defined by its numerous folk dances and folk music which the various towns have maintained throughout the centuries.

Typical Bavarian folk music as well as Bavarian folk dance evenings with traditional costumes remains in season all year through!
www.bglt.de/volksmusik

The Berchtesgadener Land has something to offer the whole year round. Whether it's the Buttmandllaufen (St. Nicholas with pagan-like straw men or fur-clad men in tow), the Almbetrieb (the festively decorated cows returning from their summer pastures) or authentic folklore evenings in mountain huts, you are guaranteed never to be bored!

The local folklore organizations have made it their goal to keep the traditions and customs of the area unaltered throughout the ages. That is why today it is still omnipresent and heartfelt, and is often the expression of a deeply religious belief. Experience the local fests, pilgrimages, celebrations with festively decorated horses, processions and much, much more!

Talent, wit, and tongue-in-cheek savvy await you at the Folk Theater (Bauerntheater) in Berchtesgaden. The actors performing in the old Bavarian dialect bring the customs and traditions of the area to the stage with nostalgic stories of earlier times as well as old down-to-earth wisdom.

First class entertainment

The Bad Reichenhall Casino, one of nine casinos in Bavaria, has for many years been publicly recognized as part of the cultural life of the city.

Here, world class entertainment is what it's all about. The casino offers a variety of attractions from classic gambling in the gambling hall to culinary pleasures at the Warsteiner Boulevard restaurant to varied stage programs at the Cultino.

Awaiting you in a pleasant atmosphere are enticing games such as American Roulette, Black Jack and Poker as well as 85 slot machines and multi roulette terminals with accessibility to the live games. At the bar in the gambling hall you will find a large selection of refreshments. Whether you drink alcohol free drinks, cocktails or champagne, every taste can be satisfied. For small, as well as large appetites, the menu of the in-house restaurant Warsteiner Boulevard is worth having a peek at! A constant flow of various cultural highlights such as cabarets and first class music ensures high level entertainment.

Enjoy cool club sounds at "Oceans" – Lounge, Dancing and Games every Saturday from 9:00 p.m.

Instrument makers

The violinmakers Hagen Schiffler and Toni Lienbacher who make wood and brass instruments both use fine woods or traditionally hand-worked metal to produce high-quality music instruments.

Böller makers

The Christmas season in the Berchtesgaden area is closely associated with the so-called shooters who welcome the Christ-child with a hand-held saluting gun, a Böller.

The workshop of Wolfgang Pfnür and Richard Stangassinger produces fine examples of this craft.

Berchtesgaden's woodcarving

Handmade and hand-painted wooden objects such as boxes, toys, instruments and sculptures are the most typical of Berchtesgaden's handicrafts. The wooden toys are used to decorate Christmas trees in traditional Berchtesgaden homes.

Lederhosen maker

Franz Stangassinger and Engelbert Aigner spend between 25 and 50 hours of skilled labor to create an authentic pair of lederhosen. Whether short or long, they are generally made of deer hide and tailored for the individual customer. The embroidery is carried out using real mulberry silk.

Feather quill embroidery

This artwork calls for a split feather quill to create extremely fine designs on lederhosen, among other articles.

Deep snow fun at Jenner

Winter Wonderland

Snow, Skiing and Sledding Fun!

Berchtesgaden and the surrounding areas of Bischofswiesen, Marktschellenberg, Ramsau and Schönau am Königssee, offer almost unlimited winter pleasure for skiers, snowboarders, sledders and for all snow lovers alike.

The ski areas in the Berchtesgadener Land are in such close proximity, they can be reached in almost no time at all by either car or by the local bus service (RVO).

Over 60 km (36 miles) of diverse slopes await skiers and snowboarders at an elevation ranging from 600 to 1,800 meters (2,000 to 6,000ft).

A few examples include the family ski areas "Skiarena" on the Obersalzberg Mountain, with five lifts and artificial snow blowers, as well as a newly created children's area, and the Hochschwarzeck ski resort with a chairlift, two T-bar lifts, a practice lift and a lift for snow tubes. The Rossfeld ski area is equipped with three T-bars, as well as a practice lift and offers floodlight-skiing every Wednesday evening. The neighboring ski area of Zinken in Austria provides a chairlift, two T-bars and a practice lift. Furthermore, you will find a chairlift, as well as three T-bar lifts at the Götschen Ski Center, where floodlight skiing is offered every Friday.

For a truly magnificent skiing adventure for beginners and experienced skiers alike, visit the Jenner ski resort at Lake Königssee. Six lifts, 11 kilometers of groomed slopes and an artificial snow blower will ensure a ton of skiing fun.

Almost all the townships in the region offer great and speedy sled runs through nature. The Hirscheckblitz sled run in Ramsau and the Obersalzberg sled run in Berchtesgaden are even equipped with lifts.

How about a ride down the artificially frozen ice track of the "Deutsche Post Eisarena" at Königssee? Then you shouldn't miss the luge ride, available for visitors to experience in winter!

If you prefer the valley to the slopes and want to do something for your stamina instead, no problem: Over 100 km (60 miles) of groomed cross country ski trails will not only keep you in top condition, but will heighten your visual senses with the breathtaking scenery. More than 20 km (12 miles) of groomed trails for skating and classic cross country skiing await you at the cross country skiing center at Aschauerweiher alone. Thanks to artificial snowmaking devices, good snow conditions are almost guaranteed. Floodlit skiing is also available on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Fun in the snow with panoramic views

Additional well groomed trails in Bad Reichenhall, Gmoa-Arena at Bayerisch Gmain, in the Rupertiwinkl area, as well as in Berchtesgaden, Markschellenberg and Schönau am Königssee, take cross-country ski enthusiasts over glistening snowy meadows and through frosted forests. For those who prefer a higher perspective, the Hochschwarzeck cross country ski area offers breathtaking views over mountain vistas at the elevation of 1,100 meters (3,600ft).

Ice skating fans have a choice of skating indoors at the Berchtesgaden ice skating rink or surrounded by natural beauty on the scenic lakes of either Hintersee or Thumsee. Here you can also enjoy a little winter fun and have a turn at ice-curling which is also offered at the recreation areas of both Bayerisch Gmain and Aschauerweiher.

Hiking in winter

Wander through a tranquil winter wonderland as you breathe in the crystal-clean air, trudge through crunchy powder snow and admire the bright blue skies and gleaming white peaks of the area. Travel through untouched nature, away from the slopes and cross-country ski-tracks, on snowshoes, with a guide or on your own. The trails leading over snowcapped mountains and through picturesque valleys cover about 200 km! Find out about the weather conditions, the exact route, including the length and difficulty level, before you start your hike and stay on the designated trails for your own safety. You can find a small selection of trail suggestions on www.bglt.de.

Snow shoe hikes

Would you like to delve even further into the untouched alpine winter landscapes? Then enjoy a special kind of winter hike – on snowshoes. There are various companies that provide these guided tours.

Horse drawn sleigh rides

Delight in a horse drawn sleigh ride from the National Park's info point at Hintersee to the wildlife feeding station and back again. The ride is offered in two legs, each 30 minutes long, in a sleigh for 8 or 12 people. Reservation and booking: Tel. +49-8657-1431

Soft mobility amid impressive mountains

"Alpine Pearls" is the leitmotif for 27 selected destinations in the Alps that promise quality. You can be sure to spend a relaxing vacation where soft mobility is offered, in order to protect nature and the climate. They are all accessible by train or other means of public transportation and, once arrived, local taxis and shuttle services are available to get around. Electric vehicles or even horse-drawn carriages ensure a fun vacation even without your own car. Alpine Pearls does not include only soft mobility but aims at also promoting regional handicrafts and cooking, and preserving traditional art and culture.

Berchtesgaden – A festival of nature

Berchtesgaden's traffic-free historic town center offers numerous sightseeing attractions such as its rococo architecture and the royal palace. Nature lovers will be well rewarded by a ride on an electric boat over the emerald-green waters of Lake Königssee in the heart of the National Park. At the end of a pleasant hike in the National Park, the Haus der Berge is an interesting option for a wealth of information about the Park's flora and fauna. One can also discover a lot about local salt mining by visiting the salt mines or hiking along the SalzAlpen-Steig salt trail.

The alpine town of Bad Reichenhall – Take a deep breath in its alpine climate

Surrounded by mountains, Bad Reichenhall offers a sheltered environment. A ride on the Predigtstuhl cable car (classified as a historic monument) provides an impressive experience, as well as a grandiose view. You can do something beneficial for both the mind and body in Bad Reichenhall with the use of alpine brine either at the Rupertus spa, at the open-air inhalation wall in the royal cure-takers' park or thanks to the town's 70 fountains that create a pleasant and salubrious milieu. You can also enjoy and relax to the delightful strains of Bad Reichenhall's Philharmonic Orchestra.

The biosphere region of Berchtesgadener Land

The area is part of the global network of the most important landscape types classified by UNESCO. It comprises an area that is representative of the northern limestone Alps, including its hinterland, and is the only UNESCO biosphere reserve in Germany.

Man stands as the most important shaper and preserver of the landscape. The UNESCO program "Man and the Biosphere" aims at preserving this unique and bio-diverse ecosystem as a natural and cultural heritage.

In cooperation with the local inhabitants, a prototypical region is to be created in which sustainable management can benefit the present, as well as future generations.

Chiemsee: island tour and highlights of Chiemgau

Throughout the year boats sail from the docks of Prien and Gstadt to the islands of Fraueninsel and Herreninsel and in summer they also call at the towns of Seebruck, Chieming, Übersee and Bernau.

Though Herreninsel is known principally for its royal palace, a stop at Fraueninsel is well worth it. The small fisherman's island has pleasant eateries and a historic Benedictine convent – truly a gem in the Chiemgau region.

The full Chiemsee boat tour offers magnificent scenery and is ideal for nature lovers. The boat docks first at Herreninsel where one can visit the sumptuous palace of King Ludwig II. It then stops at the lovely Fraueninsel before reaching Seebruck and Chieming. On the way back one can simply sit back and enjoy the views of the "Bavarian Sea" and the Chiemgau Alps.

Hohenwerfen Fortress

On top of a 100 meter high outcropping above the Salzach valley, sits the mighty, enthroned Hohenwerfen Fortress. Over the centuries it was used for its defensive position and as a prison. It also played a major role during the "Salzberger Bauernkriege" (peasants' wars). Guided tours offer visitors a glimpse into the architectural history and way of life in one of the best preserved structures of the late Middle Ages. In addition to the falcon shows of the historic State Falconry and medieval-themed events, Hohenwerfen Fortress is perfect for family excursions. Since the summer of 2013, young visitors can enjoy the entertaining Kinder-Rätsel-Rally (children's riddle rally) and a children's audio guide in four languages. The interactive game includes a riddle book, which all children receive cost-free, as well as seven interactive stations for young visitors.

Welcome to Schloss Hellbrunn

Refreshingly different history!

Discover a cultural gem that is absolutely unique in the world. Salzburg's Prince-Archbishop Markus Sittikus erected Hellbrunn pleasure palace from 1612 to 1615 as a lasting testimony of his great passion for the arts of the Renaissance.

The world-famous trick fountains are the central attraction of the Hellbrunn estate. Water pressure alone animates decorative fountains, mysterious grottos and even a mechanical theater as if by magic. Water shoots out of unexpected jets and fountains at the visitors but no need to worry: you might get refreshingly splashed but not soaked through! The trick fountain tour is popular with visitors from all over the world. A stroll through the castle's beautiful park dotted with ponds adds to the Hellbrunn experience.
